INTERNATIONAL MILITARY TACTICAL SHOOTING COMPETITION

IV TROPHY

GEN. D. M.A.V.M. LEONE CERUTI

SUNDAY 2ND OF APRIL, 2017
PRACTICAL SHOOTING RANGE OF VERANO BRIANZA

Gen. D. M.A.V.M. Leone Ceruti

Commander as Colonel of the 28th Infantry Regiment, Division Pavia.

This competition is dedicated to a special citizen of the city of Monza, Silver Medal for Military Valour, General Leone Ceruti. He fought in the Libian war as sergeant in the 5th Mountain (Alpini) Regiment, gaining at Derna in 1912 the Bronze Medal for Military Valour, because, although being ill, he went to fight, as leader of his team, with valour and bravery, exposing many times himself to enemy fire. He received the rank of officer the 1st of April 1913. During the WWI was injured due to the action of the 20th of October 1915 at Monte Vrusic leading the 103th Company of the Mountain Battalion Aosta; then, as Captain, was Aiutante Maggiore (adjutant) of the 3rd Mountain Group in the Stelvio zone, where he gained a War Cross for Military Valour during action. The 2nd of October 1926 was assigned with the rank of Major to the 6th Mountain Regiment. He became Commandant of the ammunition deposit of the 8th Rgt. and then he departed to Albania Campaign leading the Val Natisone Battalion. He was then assigned as commander to the 28th Infantry Regiment of Pavia Division, one of the bravest corps in the Italian Africa Campaign, where he gained the Silver Medal for Military Valour at El Alamein. After WWII, he received from the President of Italy the award of Cavaliere OMI for the valour and ability of his command in Northern Africa during 1941 and 1942.

Silver Medal for Military Valor

“Commander of an infantry regiment, involved in hard and bloody battles during a combat cycle of 60 days, he was a continuous bravery and boldness example to his soldiers, living together with them the most dramatic moments of the battle. During three days of epic fight along the important line of Alamein, he was the soul of the resistance for his unit, hit by continuous and infernal artillery fire and attacked many times by strong armoured and mechanized infantry forces. The security of the position so strongly protected was the foreword of a large countermanouever – Admirable example of Valor and Loyalty”

North Africa, 15th of July, 1942

Knight of the Military Order of Italy

“ Commander of an infantry regiment, after having assumed the command in a critical time and position, he succeeded in a very short time to raise his units to an excellent moral and technical level. In the operative cycle which brought our flags up to the Arab Gulf, he shown magnificent capabilities of organizer, soldier and leader. During a violent attack of overwhelming enemy forces, following diligently his orders, he modified the deployment of the units, that excited by the example, by the faith and by the courage of their commander, offered a strenuous and invincible resistance to the enemy pressure, thus allowing the higher command to favorably react to the situation.

North Africa, Egypt, December 1941 - August 1942
